Work Experience

Freelancer
As a dedicated Freelance Front-End Developer at start up company Koala creative Indonesia, I have explored the world of web development with a primary focus on responsive and engaging user interfaces. Over the course of my career, I have worked with a variety of clients from a variety of industries, providing technical and design solutions that meet their needs.

- Design and develop responsive and aesthetic user interfaces for corporate websites, integrating the latest technologies to ensure optimal user experience.
- Implement and maintain interactive features using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, ensuring cross-platform and browser compatibility.
- Actively collaborate with the design team to conceptualize creative ideas into functional and attractive web elements.
